The Bell's Scottish Open Trophy, also by Gordon Lochhead

We are delighted to be offering for auction a unique hand-crafted silver model of Gordonstoun House created by renowned OG silver smith Gordon Lochhead (creator of, amongst other things, the trophy for the Bell's Scottish Open Golf tournament at Loch Lomond - see above).

The weight of silver in the piece is 2104 gm, and the cost price for the materials and labour alone is £9000.

The piece will be auctioned via private bids between now and Wednesday 8 July. The highest bidder above the guide price at the end of the auction will be successful. All proceeds from the auction have generously been donated by Gordon to Gordonstoun's Campaign.

Bids can be made today by e-mail to Richard Devey, Campaign Director, at deveyr@gordonstoun.org.uk The current highest bid will be up-dated fortnightly on the school's website, with the bidder remaining anonymous.

HAPPY BIDDING!!
